

HAWLEY DENOUNCED AS "HIRED MAN" AND "A TOOL"

Bitter Arraignment of Prosecuting Attorney by Darrow in His Argument Today.

RIDICULES ORCHARD'S RELIGIOUS ATTACK

Says Latter "Laid His Sins on Jesus" But Detective McParland Had Him "Lay His Crimes on Haywood First."

In a denunciation that was terrible in its bitterness, Attorney Clarence Darrow, of the Haywood defense, arraigned the prosecutor today as a "hired man actuated by no other motive than to get the money of the state that he might build another addition to his home." He also called him the "tool of the mine owners," and said he was "bug-house."

Darrow's laughing statement that Orchard was persuaded to lay his sins on Jesus by his religious advisor, but that "Father" (Detective) McParland first had him lay his crimes on Haywood, did some harm to Orchard's evidence.

Boise, Idaho, July 24.—Attorney Clarence Darrow began the closing address for the defense in the Haywood case this morning. The court room was crowded to its full capacity.

In opening, Darrow impressed the chief case on the twelve men in the box and declared that the defendant is in Idaho as an alien, brought 1,500 miles from his home into a community and before a jury which does not view his life or industry as the men accused of the murder of Governor Steunenberg have been taught to look at it.

"The defendant in this case," declared Darrow, "has been brought to trial in the home of a man who was killed in a most cowardly way. Many of you on this jury voted for Steunenberg for governor. One of you had business relations with him, while in the house of another of you, he made his home for two years."

A Fair Trial.
"You are almost of the family circle of the murdered man and none of you has ever had any community of interest with the defendant. Under these circumstances I can but ask you to lay aside as much of passion and prejudice as you can, and look at us as if we were one of you."

The attorney asked for a fair and impartial trial, and that the jury be guided by the evidence only. He said the prosecution knew it could not convict on exact evidence and was relying on forced circumstances to get a verdict.

Wants Clear Cut Verdict.
He called on the jury for a clear cut verdict and asked them not to compromise on any verdict of murder, or manslaughter, or murder in the second degree.

"I would not thank this jury if it returned a verdict of assault and battery and assessed a fine of five dollars against the defendant," he said.

"If you believe the story that has been told against this man, take him and hang him. Bill Haywood is either guilty or innocent. If he is guilty I have nothing to say. But men, this is a case of Orchard from beginning

REVISED LIST LEAVES 93 LOST IN SEA DISASTER

Few Changes Made by Arrivals of Vessels With Survivors.

San Francisco, Cal., July 24.—But few changes have been made in the list of the lost and saved in the steamer Columbia disaster published yesterday. Chew Mock, Chinese, and Miss B. Musser, first reported missing, were saved. The bodies of the victims are being held by the coroner at Eureka, pending orders from relatives or friends to have them shipped to this city or Portland. The revised list of passengers shows 103 saved and 77 missing. Of the officers and crew, 40 were saved and 16 are missing. This makes a total of 93 unaccounted for.

Survivors at Astoria.
Astoria, Ore., July 24.—All night long an eager throng waited on the docks for the arrival of the steamer George W. Elder, which had on board many survivors all from the Columbia. When the boat at last arrived, there was a scene of rejoicing among those who had friends and relatives on board. The scene was not without sorrow, however, for here and there were expectant people hoping against hope that their loved one might be among the saved. The steamer Elder carried sixty-five passengers of the ill-fated Columbia.

JAPAN IS UNDERMINING WHOLE CHINESE EMPIRE

Russian Paper Publishes Details of Great Plot to Overthrow Manchu Dynasty.

INTRIGUE SOWN THROUGHOUT EAST

Nations of West Pitted by Willy Orientals Against China in Hopes of Causing Downfall of Present Emperor.

St. Petersburg, Russia, July 24.—The Novoye Vremya today published the details of an alleged dynastic movement in southern China, ascribing it to Japanese instigators, who, the paper says, are busily preparing for the Manchurian dynasty in China the same fate which has just overtaken the emperor of Korea.

The paper says that Japanese agents have worked their way into the most remote corners of the empire.

The note of the Japanese intrigue consists in assuring the Chinese that Japan is their protector against the nations of the west, and at the same time assuring the westerners that Japan is their vanguard against the Chinese peril.

The apprehension of the Novoye Vremya regarding the re-opening of the far eastern question is fully shared in Russian military circles, where the steady armament of China and Japan is viewed with alarm. The movement is regarded as primarily menacing the remnant of Russian possessions upon the Pacific.

Would Dominate World.
The Russian home office refused to give out any official statement concerning the accusations made by the newspaper against Japan, but privately the officials gave out intimations that their investigations have conclusively proved the truth of the allegations, and that even more effect has been gained by the Japanese than appears on the surface. They insist that an effort is being made by Japan to obtain control of China and with her immense population and military resources, practically dominate the world.

Their information regarding this movement is gained from consulates and other means of official communication in the Chinese empire and Manchuria. There are thousands of loyal Russians in these districts who make reports to their home government, but whose connection with Russia is not known nor suspected.

Japs Sow Discord.
From these sources it is learned, according to the Novoye Vremya which is the recognized official paper of the palace, that Japanese appear in all sections of the Chinese empire, dressed usually as coolies, and proceed to work themselves by slow degrees into the confidence of the people and lower officials. Then the seeds of discord are spread and the Jap spies keep the work moving by frequent exhibitions of letters and other matters which apparently confirm their statements. Among the higher classes the same game is pursued, though of course, Japanese of higher rank are used as spies.

ROOSEVELT VICTIM OF A POSTAL CARD CAMPAIGN

Uncle Sam Will Renew Lease —Is Purport of Senders' Desires.

New York, July 24.—From all parts of the country during the past few days, President Roosevelt has received postal cards urging him to reconsider his declaration of 1894 and accept another nomination for the presidency. The cards bear a picture of the white house under which is the inscription, "Uncle Sam will renew lease." The growing deluge of cards indicates that some one has started a campaign to induce Roosevelt to change his mind.

The president has not expressed the slightest indication of accepting other than amusement, according to the friends who have visited him at Oyster Bay. He merely laughs when asked about the deluge of cards, and wonders when it will end.

The first of the cards came from this city but they now bear date lines of cities in all parts of the United States.

GOVERNOR CURRY IS CURRY WILL APPOINT WELL PLEASED WITH PLANS REPUBLICANS HE SAYS

Inauguration Ceremonies on August First Agreeable as Arranged by Committee.

LARGE DELEGATION FROM ALBUQUERQUE WILL ATTEND

A telegram from Captain George Curry, New Mexico's new governor, was received by The Citizen this afternoon stating that August 1, the day set by the committee for his inauguration, was received by him with pleasure and approval.

He is now at his old home in Roswell. He will proceed to Santa Fe, the Capital City, early next week, and will consult with the members of the committee as to detailed arrangements.

A special from Santa Fe to The Citizen this afternoon is to the effect that rooms were being engaged in advance at all of the hotels in the city and that the attendance at the inauguration, reception and banquet would be the largest in the history of New Mexico governors.

Messages have been received from all parts of New Mexico from prominent men of both parties stating that they expect to attend and inquiries are made as to the time set for the inauguration, etc.

The railroad rates to the Capital City for the inauguration have not yet been decided upon, but they will be reasonable.

The Citizen will announce the rate from this city to Santa Fe at an early date together with the detailed arrangements made by the committee of local businessmen who are attending to these matters.

A number of representative citizens, republicans and others, have signified their intentions of attending the inauguration if arrangements are made as scheduled. There will be quite a large number of ladies in the party.

It is planned to so arrange transportation with the Santa Fe railway that those who desire to return to Albuquerque immediately after the inauguration may do so while those who desire to spend the day in San Francisco and attend the reception and ball can return the following day at their leisure.

Albuquerque people should see to it that the governor is made to feel that this city is in the front rank in bidding him welcome back to New Mexico.

EXPRESS COMPANIES WILL REDUCE RATES

Lincoln, Neb., July 24.—Representatives of five express companies doing business in this state today offered to reduce their rates fifteen per cent, which offer the commission took under advisement. The railroad commission had attempted to enforce a cut of twenty-five per cent.

Postmaster Appointed.
Washington, D. C., July 24.—Leon L. Cordova has been appointed postmaster at Gallina, Rio Arriba county, New Mexico.

EVELYN THAW DENIES THAT HER AFFECTION FOR HER PRISONER-HUSBAND IS WANING

SHE VISITS HIM EVERY DAY AT TOMBS PRISON

Becomes Angry When Told That Public Believes She Tires of Harry.

HER SMILE BRIGHT
SPOT IN DREARY DAY

$2,000,000 Worth of Valuable Coal
Land Sold to Sustain Fund for Coming Trial of His Case in October.

New York, July 24.—In the strange, uncanny and ominous interval between the time that the entire American people were breathless in their interest in the fate of Harry K. Thaw and the approaching time when the young millionaire shall again stand in the fierce glare of publicity, what is he doing?

Moreover, how does Evelyn Nesbit Thaw pass the leaden hours until her husband's fate shall be finally written?

Harry Thaw is continuing his dreary life in the Tombs prison, holding himself aloof from his fellow prisoners, reading the newspapers, smoking too much black tobacco in a black briar pipe, writing letters to his counsel, studying the evidence in the recent mistrial, eating food prepared at Deimonico's downtown restaurant, dropping a $5 bill occasionally into the hand of some fellow worse off than himself.

That, in brief, is his existence. His life is the few moments each day that he spends with Evelyn clasped in his arms—moments in which, sometimes neither speak, but breathe the love that still burns fiercely in their hearts.

And these few moments each day may be truly said to also represent the life of Evelyn.

Loves Him Still.
Recently the rumor spread and found its way into the newspapers, that love was fading in the young woman, who had sacrificed on the altar of woman's complete devotion to the man of her choice, for better or for worse.

A friend ventured to ask her if her love remained steadfast—if it were unchanged.

"Wonder and indignation welled up and mingled strangely in those beautiful eyes."

"Love him? Love Harry? God knows I do with my whole heart, and now as never before. I loathe these people who charge me with such base cowardice."

That was all. But she meant it. Every word demanded credence. She still loves him—loves him better than before.

$2,000,000 for Defense.
Last week the Thaw family sold $2,000,000 worth of choice coal lands which, by the terms of the will of the late Wm. Thaw, was never to be sold out of the family or be sold unless the family were in dire need of money.

So the fight is to go on. Harry Thaw is waiting impatiently, though unconsciously knowing, as was admitted by his counsel in conversation, that not before October at soonest can his case be brought to trial again.

Visits Him Daily.
Never but on one day in all the 13 months that Harry has been in prison has his wife failed to visit him. "She is a brick—she is," said old Billy, the deputy, at the big iron gate. "And every time she comes, he's just like a boy with a new toy. I've never seen a thing wrong with him, not a thing. He's just like any other man is. He's all right. Of yes, he's fond of her."

"And the papers say he is in very bad health?"
"Well, he isn't. He feeds from Deimonico's and he is as well as any man that has been indoors so long."

Inquiry among the Thaw lawyers disclosed a slight difference of opinion on this matter. Peabody said that his client was in a bad condition, but Dan O'Reilly coincided with the opinion expressed by Billy.

Thaw is entitled to four hours of exercise out of doors each day, which is much more than is enjoyed by hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers who are working for their living.

He has been good to the doctor, however, as the prison doctor thinks he should, and, according to the doctor, he smokes too much. The fact is, this is the first year of Harry Thaw's life in which his habits have been regular, and it has undoubtedly had its advantages as well as its disadvantages, as far as he is concerned.

He is Charitable.
"He has had a good chance to see the seamy side of life since he has been here," volunteered Billy. "I guess he never dreamed that there was so much poverty in the whole world as he has seen right here. It influenced him? Yes, surely. He simply didn't know that there was such a thing. He has been good to the other prisoners. He has given away no end of clothing since he has been here, and now and then, when he knew that $5 would do a good deal of good, he didn't mind handing that out, either. There is always a lot of people standing around in the street to see his wife when she leaves every noon, sometimes several hundred, even now."

Every morning from 7 to 9 Thaw is allowed two hours for exercise in the prison yard. At 7 his lawyer comes and stays with him until his wife appears, at 10:45. She stays an hour and 10 minutes. After lunch there are two more hours for exercise out of doors, and the rest of the day he spends in writing and reading. He is nearly always in bed by 11 o'clock.

His wife is almost as much of a prisoner within her room. She is never seen except when she goes to the Tombs. There is at present a good deal of mystery about who the Thaw lawyers are.

Mrs. Wm. Thaw is to give up her cottage by the seaside next week and come back to the city, to be near her son. It is expected then that some decision may be made in regard to the handling of the case for the next trial.

UNITED HATTERS WANT THE UNION LABEL RETAINED

General Strike Possible If Open Shop Idea is Adopted.

MANUFACTURERS HAVE DECIDED AGAINST MEN

New York, July 24.—The first general strike in twelve years of the United States of America, involving about 20,000 men, is now threatened against the open shop, which the National Fur Felt Hat Manufacturers' association proposes to introduce. The open shop declaration is contained in a resolution by the manufacturers to abolish the union label.

The United Hatters of America embrace practically every workman employed in the hat factories of the United States, hence a general strike would mean that the manufacturers must "break in" new employees. The union is not only strong in membership, but also financially, and can well handle a strike. It won out in its last struggle thirteen years ago.

The present strike is largely due to a desire on the part of the manufacturers to do away with treating the union in all matters concerning their employees. They do not propose to cut the scale of wages nor demand longer hours of labor, but are anxious to treat with their men as individuals, hiring whom they please and discharging men whom they do not want.

ITO TREATING WITH KOREAN MINISTERS

Tokio, July 24.—According to a dispatch received here from Seoul this morning, Marquis Ito received a last message yesterday from the imperial government in this city and opened negotiations with the Korean government the same evening. The Marquis is now holding a meeting with closed doors.

SANTA FE STORE VISITED BY THIEVES.
Santa Fe, July 24.—(Special).—Burglars last night broke into the store of Jesus Ortiz and carried away merchandise valued at $100. The thieves effected an entrance by breaking the lock on the door and they left no trace further than the empty places on the shelves and counters.

JAP TROOPS MARCHING ON TO KOREAN CAPITAL

Proposal of Emperor to That Nation Causes Consternation in Court.

CABINET HELD LONG
SESSION OVER IT

Seoul, Korea, July 24.—A message from Chemulpo states that three Japanese warships arrived there this morning with many bluejackets and troops on board, and that the troops will proceed to Seoul. Many agitators from the provinces are arriving here. They are not permitted to assemble in the city, and therefore are meeting in the suburban towns where a hundred soldiers yesterday were detailed to disperse them. Wholesale arrests of subordinates leaving the palace began yesterday afternoon, the object being to intercept possible communication with the former emperor, which might throw light upon alleged plots to murder the ministers.

Proposal Causes Consternation.
It is understood that the proposal of Japan, with which Baron Hayaashi was charged, was presented by Marquis Ito to the Korean cabinet, which met at 10 o'clock this morning under a Japanese guard. The ministers deliberated until 4 o'clock this afternoon when Premier Iwan Yung, together with the minister of war presented a new plan of governing the state to the emperor in the palace.

It is understood that the Japanese proposals, though they do not molest the security of the throne, are revolutionary, and the fact that the audience of the cabinet members and emperor was brief, is believed to be an evidence of the consternation of the court.

VICTORIA'S FIRE LOSS IS $250,000

Victoria, B. C., July 24.—The number of houses burned in the fire yesterday, which practically wiped out the district between Store and Quadra streets, and Herald and Pioneer streets, is today placed at seventy-five. The loss is about $250,000. The fire was almost entirely wiped out and three churches were also destroyed. The other buildings being residences.
